

All the world's a carnival with apple eyes
Pin your wings to heaven darling don't you cry
Are you needing me, like I know you do
When your bleary eyes fall from blue

In every heart there is a hole
A piece of silk is turned to stone
There's only one direction love can go
Go on ahead, I know you'll wander back home

Oh the faces of the cards we used to play
Pride would never have it any other way
So we lost the war 'cause we thought it proof
That our bleary eyes fell from blue

As Mary calls for Magdalene
I turn to yield what I defend
There is only one direction love can go
Go on ahead, I know you'll wander back home

Is it heaven?
Is it heaven?
Is it heaven?

Is everything so different now
Then I will wait with mortal foul
I'm heavy with devotion yes I know
Go on ahead, I hope you'll wander back home
