

Writing on the Wall

Paper Route

You oughta know
You should be left alone
I forgave you once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

You oughta know
I've been through this before
So I gave it once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

Dip your finger in ink
Finger in ink
Spell it out
Write it down
What do you think?

How does it feel
You were there for the fall?

Dip your finger in ink
Finger in ink
It's a bitter cup
Fillin' up
Baby, let's drink

How does it feel
Knowing that it's your fault?

You oughta know
You should be left alone
I forgave you once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

You oughta know
I've been through this before
So I gave it once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

Writing on the wall
Never was your fault

Draw a line in the sand
Line in the sand
If the money's right
Overnight
Flash in a pan

How does it feel
Laying down to be sold?

Draw a line in the sand
Line in the sand
It's an appetite
Oversight
Choose where you stand

How does it feel
Holding out just to fold?

You oughta know
You should be left alone
I forgave you once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

You oughta know
I've been through this before
So I gave it once
Then at twice
I took control, we're just
Writing on the wall, writing on the wall

Writing on the wall
Never was your fault
