

Are You Alarmed?

Parabelle

Listen to me
Cause I'm the one
You wanted to feel peace again

A dollar says the angel was a quitter
You're not the only one
Taken for granted
Has it gotten worse?
Just take it till it works

He thought he wouldn't hurt again
Cheap threats
Beg for you to be a man
What makes a heartless nightmare
Beat you down again?

So far away
I know it's wrong
But it looks so good on paper
(I don't understand) First you're up, then you're down
And you fight the urge to kill again

A better guess would be the devils' undercover
She said the red pills kept her together
Now her head is full of words
And she twists them till it hurts

(Twists them till it hurts) [x2]

Hated
One sided insight
She hopes you found the cure
The total or the worth

So far away
I know it's wrong
But it looks so good on paper
(I don't understand) First you're up, then you're down
And you fight the urge to kill again

And I know
Some things are worth the wait
And I know
That you'll be reaching out
Are you alarmed?
Are you alarmed?

This is the piece that resisted
This is the piece that you're missing
A little luck
This is a major commitment
This is the last time you'll face it
This is his last ditch resistance
This is the road to persistence
If this is the major attraction
Are you alarmed?

This is the way you can fix it
This is the way you convince me?
This is the way you can fix me
This is the way you fuck off

So far away
I know it's wrong
But it looks so good on paper
(I don't understand) First you're up, then you're down
And you fight the urge to kill again
