

Atonement

Parabelle

You are such a hypocrite, so I'm leavin for a bit
Because I am blessed with soul, something you would never know
When you're this close, it gets hot before its cold
And I will never know you're gone
Whatever's possible becomes impossible

Woah
This is atonement
You're the painting
You're the pain that I feel
Follow the trail with some bad politics
If they never know I'm gone, they will never notice it

You looked so tame, I saw you in the rearview mirror
You looked so challenged when I caught up, and this is what I do
Sometimes you still think I am crazy when I'm sane

And you will never know I'm gone
Don't ever get too close, cause I'm not good up close

Woah
This is atonement
You're the painting
You're the pain that I feel
Follow the trail with some bad politics
If they never know I'm gone, they will never notice it

No, don't get upset, cause you never played fair
Please, just remember me when I am not around
And I cant forget her lips, so red
Go sit back down, cause I cant go back until we just finish

And they will never know were gone
The best has yet to come
The best has yet to come

Woah
This is atonement
You're the painting
You're the pain that I feel
Follow the trail with some bad politics
If they never know I'm gone, they will never notice it

No, don't get upset, cause you never played fair
Please, just remember me when I am not around for the taking
For the taking
