

In The Shadows

Parabelle

A few more breaths that you can't count
At least not on me
If you'd shut your eyes, I'd shut my mouth
Cuz you mean nothing to me
And I would lift you up
So I could let you fall cuz I
Was going nowhere from the start
And nowhere's where it ends

And I will leave you in shadows
Of where I used to be
You won't be afraid
But I was wrong

I lived so you wouldn't be alone
But you deserve better than this,
Better than this!
Don't you know?

A few more lessons you can count,
If I said
We were missing all the points
But still had it all
And I would let you know
How the story goes, and how...
And how it starts and where it ends
With everything you said
