

Rise

Parabelle

Tread that water line,
She says you're running out of time,
She says you're my little rose
But the heads are gonna roll,
She starts talking faster now,
So you can't say a word
And she's hoping you won't notice
Whatever's wrong, whatever makes you

Rise up tragedy,
Take this useless heart
And watch me survive
Right in front of you
And it breaks my heart
To watch you survive

There's no turning back
She says we all get out of line,
She says pour another dose
Cause you're the reason why I'm so
Good at breaking your heart,
You've already pooled up the pieces
And whatever brought you back
Is what makes you guilty inside

Rise up tragedy,
Take this useless heart
And watch me survive
Right in front of you
And it breaks my heart
To watch you survive

I'm hurt, I fall,
Are you hurt by it all,
There's no water line,
She said no

Rise up tragedy,
Take this useless heart
And watch me survive
Right in front of you
And it breaks my heart
To watch you survive
Without it
It breaks my heart
To watch you survive
