Parabelle

I'd wipe your tear but this is just how I feel
You should have let go so you can hold on to what's real
And they say all the facts are in
And this is where it ends
Maybe its best to be broken cuz I know that we wont bend
You should close the door or try a little more
Why we circle I don't know
But I know if it's too much to follow
Maybe it's best you don't stay close

Cuz you know you'll be missed
You will be better than this
You're so much better than this
I just want out
But you're hard to resist
You know I'm better than this
You know me better than this

I strike your fear cuz your heart won't set to feel Maybe this was just too fast too real
Now you're bummed out
You're sick of changing
I can see in your eyes you're sick of the complaining

You should close the door and cry a little more I'll make it up to you somehow
But for now if it's too hard to swallow then maybe its best you don't stay c lose

Cuz you know you'll be missed
You will be better than this
You're so much better than this
I just want out
But you're hard to resist
You know I'm better than this
You know me better than this

I swear I'm doing nothing wrong
Maybe the memory seem like the pictures we take
You still exist in my mind
Even if I'm lost in yours
Even if I'm lost in yours

Stay close
Cuz you know you'll be missed
You will be better than this
You're so much better than this
I just want out
But you're hard to resist
You know I'm better than this
You know me better than this
