Words Meet Heartbeats

Parachute

Well I'd go house to house and knock on every door I'd take down all the walls and tear up every floor Just to figure out, oh what we're fighting for And all I can do is sit and let the air speak for you

Cause when words meet heartbeats, baby, come on You know it's not even fair and a first-round knockdown Baby, the floor, you know I'm already there And the sun sets high and that moon is low Cause when words meet heartbeats, baby, you'll know

Well there's silence now, there's nothing more to gain And it isn't right if I can't run away Because it kills the mood when there's nothing left to say And all I can do is sit and let the air speak for you

Cause when words meet heartbeats, baby, come on You know it's not even fair and a first-round knockdown Baby, the floor, you know I'm already there And the sun sets high and that moon is low Cause when words meet heartbeats

And I'm not too tired, I'm not too tired to know what you're doing And I'm not too tired, I'm not too tired to see And I'm not too tired, I'm not too tired to know what you're doing with me

Cause when words meet heartbeats, baby, come on You know it's not even fair and a first-round knockdown Baby, the floor, you know I'm already there And the sun sets high and that moon is low Cause when words meet heartbeats, and words meet heartbeats, When words meet heartbeats, baby, you'll know
