

Just A Feeling

Paradise Fears

You take the time to make yourself more appealing
I could have sworn I checked up both your sleeves
Patiently waiting for a boy worth believing
Patiently waiting for a chance to believe

(So don't believe me)
When I say this will pass
('Cause yes I'm guilty)
Of praying this will last
Another moment would be all I need
To fix your path so it led to me

You tell yourself it's just a feeling (just a feeling)
You get when no one's around
So swallow your pride
Say something more, stop pretending you're fine
Trying to ignore
All that they left behind
We could settle the score
Start living for something worth dying for (what are you waiting for?)

So tell me now that you're aware
You never gave it a chance
You cut the ties before you realized potential was there (realized)
That it was all just a game
And after all too many tries you'll never play it the same

(So don't believe me)
When I say this will pass
('Cause yes I'm guilty)
Of praying this will last
Another moment would be all I need
To fix your path so it led to me

You tell yourself it's just a feeling (just a feeling)
You get when no one's around
So swallow your pride
Say something more, stop pretending you're fine
Trying to ignore
All that they left behind
We could settle the score
Start living for something worth dying for
So hear me now so we can see this out
I'm shredding my lungs just to make this count
If you let me in
I could settle the score
Start living for something worth dying for (what are you waiting for?)

What are you waiting for? (3x)
