

You and Me

Parov Stelar

Wake up in the bad
with confusions in my head
I dont trust to what I feel
I dont think we had a deal
You took my kiss without knowing my name
Step into my world without a shame
You walked out the door without telling a word
Left me lying there feeling like a little bird
How weird is this
How weird is that

But in my mind I do regret
I didn't didn't hold you back
What life would this be
If there is you and me.
