

One Man No City

Parquet Courts

Where i'm from, when no one lived
There. i look back now -- nothin's
Changed. where i'm from now, still
No one lives there, look back again
And lock the door. i maintain, i still Remain one man solitary and no
City

"cogito ergo sum" people say, but
Think again cause i have no faith
I find building blocks filled with Nothin'. seen an ink blot page and
I said nothin'. outside? i'll check
It out -- it's just a mirror. "look Back now!" an empty page. yet i
Maintain, i still remain, one man
Solitary and no city

No town no city
No identity no city
No thoughts, no feelings no city
No you just me i think no city
No words i speak no city
No outside no city
Nothin' at all no city
No way home no city
No relief no city
No sympathy no city
No understanding no city
There's no one else and no city
