

Should Not Be

Parralox

We all dream about the future
No one knows what lies ahead
Do you remember the children playing
That was us not so long ago

Do you believe that love can save us?
Just be courageous,
Ignore the things that should not be

But I dont mind, it's okay
No I dont mind, everything's okay
But I dont mind, it's okay
No I dont mind, everything's okay

And so we follow in the footsteps
Of the ones who came before
Hollow echoes in the distance
A bleak of reminder of what may come to pass

All around us we see the changes
But we are blameless
Can someone save us?
