

You're feeling good now
Cause you've got your fix again
You're feeling good now
Cause you found your only friend
You're feeling good now
Cause you got, cause you got that

Yeah you're running, yes you're running, yeah you're running away
There are people that been telling you you don't look the same
Yeah you lost your look, you lost your own name
Now you struggle in the game from the pressure and the strain
You hold the reigns to your chariot of flames
On the road to change, travel plans rearranged
Now you're sitting on the corner and you're waiting in the rain

You're feeling good now
Cause you've got your fix again
You're feeling good now
Cause you found your only friend
You're feeling good now
Cause you got, cause you got that

Yes you're burning all your fingers and your stubbing all your toes
On the cracks in the pavement, blood running from your nose
People telling you that you don't look the same
Don't look the same as yesterday
Got a history of misuse, head's up in the noose
Runaway locomotive, but you ride in the caboose
Got a history of misuse, head's up in the noose now

You're feeling good now
Cause you've got your fix again
You're feeling good now
Cause you found your only friend
You're feeling good now
Cause you got, cause you got that
