Who You Know

In this world there will be people that you love There will be people that just don't give a damn Don't even care to know your name But if you know what it means to be humble What it means to do the right thing Take a bow and do it all over again

You could work all your life Work a nine to five Barely surviving rush hour traffic You could work for yourself Earn a little wealth And have some time to be happy

In this world there will be people that you trust There will be evil men that just Want to take a cut and smile right in your face But if you know you've got more than enough There are more who've got it rough Take a bow for giving everything you can

You could work all your life Work a nine to five Barely surviving rush hour traffic You could work for yourself Earn a little wealth And have some time to be happy
