

Stardust

Pathfinder

Beyond the real world of pain filled screams
A chant of wolves that calls my name
In a depth of black abyss where I follow my dreams
Little spark falls down and it's closer now

Earthquake and starlight have shrouded this land
Until I open my eyes
It's time for an alliance let's find our star
We are running ahead we are passing the death
We will rule as forever again and again

Stardust raised by the wind
Guides the way through the silver flames
Salvation from heaven destiny from the stars
We're rising our force of will for the fight which lasts forever
Searching the way to the promised gates

The earth became a cradle for the dust from this star
Did you hear the almighty now
Light is so blinding this star used to shine
Now I am running ahead we are cheating the death
We will rule as forever again and again

Stardust raised by the wind
Guides the way through the silver flames
Salvation from heaven destiny from the stars
We're rising our force of will for the fight which lasts forever
Searching the way to the promised gates

Beyond the real world of pain filled screams
A chant of wolves that calls my name
In a depth of black abyss where I follow my dreams
Little spark falls down and it's closer now

I know what is your destiny I know what is your life
