Beautiful

Patrick Nuo

Like a thunderstorm on a summer day She came out of nowhere and that can say She's a supernova shinin' through the night A never sleeping satellite

She's a damn good reason for the sun to ride When you see her smile in the morning light When she cries, she cries a wishing well Played hide and seek with the hounds of hell

She throws you down to take you high Into her private sky

She's so Beautiful beautiful beautiful beautiful beautiful Beautiful beautiful beautiful beautiful Magical, mystical, irresistible, cosmical A wonderful overkill and most of all beautiful Oocoh och och aha Oocoh och och aha She's so ocoh och och aha ocoh och och Beautiful mmh so beautiful

You wanna call her name from the highest hill And she's better than a 5-million-dollar bill She swims with you to atlantis' coast To keep you save while the world explodes

She's diving down to keep you high Inside her velvet sky

She's a mermaid who's left her fairytale She wrote a brandnew song for the nightingale Sometimes I think she's invented but Thank-god she's made of flesh and blood.

She's everything I've ever missed the more But most of all she is
