

To Be Continued

Patrick Nuo

I lie awake and feel the night
A million different thoughts in mind
And everything reminds me of your face
Maybe too late to realize
The smile has left your eyes
But we shared so many dreams I can't erase

It's all about a little doubt
If you change your point of view
And so I hope that our love is in the mood

Sometimes it's not that easy
To keep things goin' on
I know it's not that easy
But I hope that our love is in the mood

I'm sorry for the tears we cried
Sorry for the words last night
Maybe they were better left unsaid
Somehow I know we'll cure the pain
It's just a little summer rain
Let me try to get these clouds out of your head

It's all about a little doubt
If you change your point of view
And so I hope that our love is in the mood

Sometimes it's not that easy
To keep things goin' on
I know it's not that easy
But I hope that our love is in the mood

Take your time to change your mind
There's a way our love will find
I can show you
