

Alone In This World

Patrick Watson

I know I'm forgetting something,
Something's forgetting me,
I know I loose my keys tomorrow,
But these toes don't answer me,
Did anybody tell you, you don't live here anymore?
Don't feel at home in this world anymore,
The people in the picture frames,
I can't remember any names,
And when I walked down the street,
There was no one left to me,
Did anybody tell you, you don't live here anymore?
Don't feel at home in this world anymore,
What's that you said just the other day?
Everything goes away,
What's that you hear spinning in your ear?
Everything goes away,
Help me to remember,
Help me to remember,
Ding dong, someone's at the door,
Who could it be? I hope it's Rita or Betty,
Suppose to be here by four,
But there's a stranger at the door,
Did anybody tell you, you don't live here anymore?
Don't feel at home in this world anymore,
Don't feel at home in this world anymore,
Don't feel at home in this world anymore.
