

Love Songs For Robots

Patrick Watson

Breaking down,
Your days getting longer
There's a yellow glass dragon who's chasing you around Sit your head on a silver jet stream while the smoke is rising over your thoughts and your dreams
Watch over you, you watch and fall down
Your nuts and bolts are all over the ground.
You get up, get up
You get up, get up, you get up

Something's leaking
It leaks from your eyes where all these tears past the problems Stop wasting your words from around as you're running out of thoughts as it burns, burning out Watch as the flowers, thrones and winds spills close as it whis pers away
Get up, you get up, get up

I will love you
And I will love you
