

Twisted Road

Patty Griffin

You don't know what you feel
You don't know what you feel
Your mind is blinded by the speed of light
But your driving a ton of steel

Jesus left a love divine
Then He disappeared
Jesus left a love divine
But He didn't leave it here

There's a million cars and drivers
You can see them from the heavens above
And an endless sea of red taillights
On a twisted road to love

Your head's a radio
Playing a stupid song
Your head is a radio
And you're singing right along

If you had just one day
Would you spend it here?
If you had just one day
Would you spend it here?

There's a million cars and drivers
You can see them from the heavens above
And an endless sea of red taillights
On a twisted road to love

There's a million cars and drivers
You can see them from the heavens above
And an endless sea of red taillights
On a twisted road to love

I seen you looking at me
So smug and so smart
I seen you looking at me
Spinning around on a music box

Spinning around, spinning around
And around on a music box
Spinning around, spinning around
And around on a music box

On a music box, on a music box
Around, round, round, round
