Somewhere In Your Heart

Paul Carrack

They say in time all the truth comes to light When you can see past the wrong and the right There's a feelin' inside stronger than pride Finds me every lonely night Well I have searched the past in my mind How we failed to see the danger signs Well one good reason why we let our love die Is something that I've failed to find

Somewhere in your heart
There's a lonely part that beats for me
Somewhere in your broken heart
There's a lonely part that beats for me

Well I have cried till my tears have turned cold I'd trade my pride for peace in my soul Please don't make me pay for the rest of my days For emotions that ran out of control We've all but closed the door on our past And this one chance may well be our last So before you decide one last look inside Is all my shattered dreams can ask

Somewhere in your heart
