I've hidden in the silence Then I took it far away I was living in the distance In the corners of my day You came into my life And centered all my fears Loving you is everything The meaning to these years Partners in time Partners today Walking through problems That might have come out way 'Cause when all is said and done There's no need for me to run You're the only one The only one I love

We turned over the pages
And saw the pictures there
The color might be fading
But I can see it clear
You walked into my life
And balanced every word
Loving you is everything
Everything I've heard

Partners in time
Partners today
Walking through problems
That might have come our way
'Cause when all is said and done
You're the only one I love
You're the only one the only one I love

Once I had a reason
To run and hide from you
Hiding in the silence
Was all I ever used to do
But now I know the feeling
Must be al about believing

You're the only one The only one I love.
