

Alive and Well

Paul Kelly

Hey hey its good to see you
All dressed in white
You're looking thinner, I got your letter
I'm so glad you'll soon be better
I can tell that just by looking
Anyone can tell
You're alive and well

Well well I'd like to kiss you
Right between the eyes
Although they say its against advice
I'll do anything once, twice
So let me kiss you once again
Then let's go ring the bells
You're alive and well

Tell the nurse
You're through the worst
Yeah cancel the hearse
There'll be no business today, today

Yeah yeah you look so precious
If only you could see
Your neck so thin and the sheets so wide
Your cheeks are redder than a blushing bride
The eyes of brides see only new
This news is gonna sell
You're alive and well

Anyone can tell
You're alive and well
Let's go ring the bells
You're alive and well
