Little Decisions

Hard times are never over Trouble always comes Still I'm looking forward

To tomorrow when it comes I've done a little damage To myself, I didn't care There are things a man can't manage And that's the devil's share

Little decisions are the kind I can make Big resolutions are so easy to break I don't want to hear about your big decisions

Work a little harder Keep your mind on death Get your things in order Take a deeper breath

If drinking is the problem Then drink a little less

If guilt becomes a burden Find a friend, confess

Little decisions are the kind I can make Big resolutions are so easy to break I don't want to hear about your big decisions Paul Kelly
