

Rising Moon

Paul Kelly

We left the others
In the fading light
Walked up that old road
On a warm summer night
He said let's go high
There's a good chance its soon
We'll get to see the rising moon

When we reached the quarry
We can see the breath
We stood there a moment
Searching the trees
Suddenly, we saw it
That big red glow
I took your hand
And you didn't let go

And my whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest
And my whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest

Well the moon changes colour
As it rose in the sky
We change each other
Under heaven's bright eye
I might live to 100
I might die soon
But I never forget that rising moon

And my whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest
And my whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest

Are you gone
Left me staring at the rising moon
My heartbeats stops
Sometimes I wished you just stopped

My whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest
My whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest
My whole heart jumped out of my chest
My whole heart jumped right out of my chest
