He drives into the city And works extra hard all day He finishes up early So he can get away 'Cause there's a blue-eyed kid on second base Wants Dad to watch him play And Daddy knows he's waiting So he hurries on his way CHORUS: Cause you know heroes come in every shape and size Making special sacrifices for others in her lives No one gives them medals The world don't know their names But in someone's eyes, they're heroes just the same She rocks her crying baby In the hours before dawn She whispers words of hope to help her husband to hold on She takes time for the children Making sure they know she cares She's more then just a Momma She's the answer to their prayers Repeat Chorus No I don't pretend to know you But I bet it's save to say There's someone out there somewhere looking up to you today And they see everything you do Except for you mistakes You may not think you measure up but you got all it takes

No one gives them medals
The world don't know their names
But in someone's eyes
They're heroes just the same
Yea , in someone's eyes
They're heroes just the same
Talking bout heroes....
Special kind of heroes....
No ordinary heroes.
