

Lovelight

Paula Cole

Crimson cardinal sees his life
Into the glass he flies
The perfect partner he does spy
A moment's glance of eyes
Reflections of a future love
Feel the pull of fate
The perfect love turned out to be
Himself in haste and vain
Passion's flash of red
Bloodied on the pane

In your eyes I find
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
Blinded by surprise
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight

All the qualities I loved
Now bite me black and blue
All the joys you loved in me
Come biting back at you
So innocent we found ourselves
Becoming what we feared
Till death do us our shadows part
Make room through all these tears
Till something new appears
Reborn in this nadir

In your eyes I find
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
Blinded by surprise
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
You are my lovelight
