

Winner of The

Pavement

I tell what I remember She'll tell you what you forgot Not really much to remember There is a lot to forget

And I'm the winner of all And I'm the winner of all You put the salt in the fall

And I'm the winner of everything Everything known and true to me Repitition means everything And I'm still trying to make my stand

So did you read about me? Do you know what I did? More people know about me And know the things that I said

Acknowledgement of everyone Acknowledgement of myself And I'm not the snowman anymore

I'm the winner of everything Everything known and true to me Repitition means everything And I'm still trying to make my stand

I can feel good and bad It doesn't mean I worry And I'm the winner of all And I'm not the snowman anymore

I'm the winner of everything Everything known and true to me Location means everything And I'm still trying to make my stand
