

Early Morning On

Pavlov's Dog

Try for the mountains
Try for the mountains
Cause you're already gone too long
You've got to reach for high places
Glide on a whirlwind
You've already gone too long
You've got to try for the mountains
And when you cry for the mountains
You've already gone too long
And you can I count on you
Early morning on
And then you watch her go
I've always offered you
The things I did alone
And though it's been quite some time
Since I brought you home new songs
If at times it seems
I've wandered off to dream
Pass it off as Elsie
Wherever she may be
