

Hourglass

Pay money To my Pain

People walking through me
In this frosty town
Traffic noise makes me feel calm
This moonless night

A kiss of loveless feeling
The ice is melting now like your heart
Hourglass keeps telling me the time
And I have to change the flow
The cross over

I'd never lie to you
But you disappeared
I am so alone
Do you believe that this was meant to be?
I never trust my fate
Everything fades away in the end

People staring through me
In this frosty town
Empty streets and no one's home
This moonless night
In the silence
Hourglass never flow

Everyday I die
And every night I'm born
Can you help me now?
Everything fades away
In the end

I'm the one with no name
No one knows about me
You can trust me I'm ok
I just wanna be alone
I don't feel anymore I might forget my name
Can you tell me who I am?

Everyday I lie
For protection from enemies
But I realized
I am the enemy

Everyday I die
And every night I'm born
Like the hourglass
It never flows
It never flows
Eternally

No, it never flows
Eternally