Unforgettable Past

Pay money To my Pain

Nothings got my back you've got my headspining around down When I stop to see into your world It's stuck in the grid

Can't you see? You see this world is yours You've never had this feeling I know you wanna change your life Because I know this world is not enough Cuz I don't wanna see I only wanna feel that far from the fear

Nothings got my back I've lost my sorrow and my path I can't trust you You only think of yourself so selfish

All you guys used to hate each other But now you've become friends I don't understand what's your real intention You used to called each other names It's over and over It's funny cuz I don't belong any more

Can't you see? You see this world is yours You've never had this feeling I know you wanna change your life Because I know this world is not enough Cuz I don't wanna see I only wanna feel that far from the fear
