

Hard to Imagine

Pearl Jam

Paint a picture, using only gray
Light your pillow, lay back, watch the flames
I'll tell a story, no one would listen that long

It's hard to imagine, it's hard to imagine.
Tear into yourself, count tales on your arm
Ah the beating, tickin' like a bomb
After having seen all that they saw

It's hard to imagine, it's hard to imagine.
Things were different then, all is different now
I tried to explain, somehow.
Things were different then, all is different now
I tried to explain, somehow.

Things were different then, all is different now
I tried to explain, I hope this works somehow.
Things were different then, all is different now
I tried to explain, oh, somehow.
Ooh, oh, oh.
