- 1. I shut and locked the front door No way in or out I turned and walked the hallway And pulled the curtains down I knelt and emptied the mouth of every club around
- 2. I'd stay but my last cab left me Ignored all my rounds Soon I was seeing visions and cracks along the walls They were upside down
- R: I swallow my words to keep from lying
  I swallow my face just to keep from biting, I, I..
  I swallowed my breath and went deep, I was diving, diving
  I surfaced when all of my pen wasn't writing
  I'm in hiding
- 3. It's been about three days now Since I've been aground No longer overwhelmed and it seems so simple now It's funny when things change so much It's all state of mind
- R: I swallowed my words to keep from lying
  I swallowed my face just to keep from biting I, I
  I swallowed my breath and went deep, I was diving, I was diving

I surfaced and all around me was enlightened Now I'm in hiding
