Crazy people know the special place to go when the pressure is on.
Neurons re-align
'til the feeling is fine or the trouble is gone.
They're in the business of inventing saviours.

There's always trouble
so tell yourself again
that help is on the way and safety abounds, that safety abounds.

When you need some kind of guarantee that you're protected
you start to trust the things that deeper comfort brings before you've checked it.
You might be waiting for a long time.

There's always trouble
so tell yourself again
and safety abounds, that safety abounds, that safety abounds, t hat safety abounds.
