Pedro the Lion

Crazy people know
the special place to go when the pressure is on.
Neurons re-align
'til the feeling is fine
or the trouble is gone.
They're in the business of inventing saviours.

There's always trouble so tell yourself again that help is on the way and safety abounds, that safety abounds.

When you need some kind of guarantee that you're protected you start to trust the things that deeper comfort brings before you've checked it.
You might be waiting for a long time.
