

On Reflection

Penetration

Don't say you're sorry now
You know its too late
To re-traces words and promises
Misleading and vague.

I lost control
And staggered helplessly
among the raging tides
Couldn't hide my precious pride and vanity.

Don't say you're sorry now
You know its too late
To re-trace words and promises
Misleading and vague.

Temptation captured my imagination led me straight to you
Release the chains that haunt my soul
And set me free.

On Reflection
On Reflection.

Now I feel I'm falling
Air is still and warning
Theres no turning back
Never turning back-

On Reflection.
