

Believe in memories to resurrect me

Besieged by falling dreams

Hold them tightly

Adorn my wings to thee, and use them nightly

I'm neither angel nor a demon spawn

Though some will call me god

Gravity is just a law I've wrought

Hear temptation take the sky for all to see

Sheer elation to write in history

I'm neither angel nor a demon spawn

Though some will call me god

Gravity is just a feeble plot

When I said I'd never kneel again

What I really meant

Was (fucking) pull the pin because time is spent

Unite with ravens on their shadow flights

As my nocturnal right

Gravity is just a mortal's vice

When I said I'd never feel or see

Love and sight are last resorts for me
