

Song For Someone

Perry Blake

This is a song for someone
I have yet to meet
She could be riding on the subway
Or sleeping in the street
This is a song for someone
I may never know she could be dead
In someone's memory
But how am I to know?

This is the song for no one
I have ever known
And I don't need these old photographs
To tell me that i'm alone
This song is for someone
This song is for someone

I'll take a train that travels far
That takes me near to where you are
I'll take no radio for company
I'll take no baggage
Just a photograph

This is a song for someone
I may never know
You could be riding on the subway
You could be driving through the snow
This is a song for someone
This is a song for someone
