

Suspended Animation

Pestilence

Music:Mameli,Uterwijk
Lyrics:v. Drunen
Suffering from a disease
The morbid symptoms aren't identifiable
Physicians; they disagree
Fighting is thus impossible
Vainly you wait for a cure
But there's pain you have to endure
You don't have to add you to dead
Leave your faith in science's hands
Research might lead to your salvation while you're in a state of suspended animation
After the anaesthesia comes pure nitrogen
In many degrees below zero
An ice-bound human being Can they disabuse him of his as yet unknown disease?
Then maybe in the future
the machines will stop to freeze
The blood is no longer liquid
No palpitations of the heart
Stone could hardened intestines
There will never be a new start
Ages wait for a cure
No more pain they have to endure
They added themselves to the dead
Left their faith in science's hands
Forever frozen is their destination
In a state of suspended animation
