One in a million men

Could change the way you feel

Why This uncertainty? It's not clear to me Would you rather be independent? Have I lost your love? Have you had enough? Do you feel too much resentment? How can I make you see When you disagree That you just can't leave? One in a million men Could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me Won't stand in your way I can make you stay Though, of course, I feel rejected You're a part of me You're the family I can't bear to leave One in a million men Could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me Feel Free To leave If you think you're trapped, but Please Believe I'll always want you back One in a million men Could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me One in a million men Could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me One in a million men Could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me
