Man in uniform told me he wants to get out Didn't see it coming head in from the west And it's he who choose To reach another level I never even saw it before today sew his uniform paint a different circle can i wonder how you never let me down? If it's we who choose I'll reach another level To be that one who never lost a day But it's he who choose I'll reach out for the takers I never saw them make it in a scene Man in uniform Wants to get out He didn't see it coming Blaze in from the north So it's they who choose I'll reach out for beginners I know you could not miss it, It's a date! A little while : Just for a little while I know you never wanted it this way I can see, I can see.
