Just For You

Peter Andre

Thinking back on when The dream was all I knew Everything I've earned Is all because of you

The love you gave us all And the strength to carry on You paved the only way And I owe it all to you

I owe it all to you All that I've acheived All that I've recieved Is all for you

And I never will No I never will forget Oh mama.... Your more than that to me You're my friend

Holding back the tears Though the struggle stayed for years You gave me inner strength And I owe it all to you

I owe it all to you All that I've acheived All that I've recieved Well it's all for you

And I never will No I never will forget Oh mama.... Because you're more than that to me You're my friend
