

To Die For

Peter Andre

To die for money gives life no meaning
To die for glory would be too easy
To die for pride ain't good enough
But love love love love is to die for

To fight for something that you believe in
To give as much as you're receiving
To fall asleep each and every night
In love love love love is to die for

I believe love's the key
That opens up your heart and sets you free
And that love isn't blind
It just chooses not to see the flaws of you and me
Baby I'm mistaken but I always let my feelings show
And I'll give it all away to be with you
'Cos in my heart I know

To die for money gives life no meaning
To die for glory would be too easy
To die for pride ain't good enough
But love love love love is to die for

Don't you know that
Love hurts you sometimes
But it can wipe away your tears
'Cos love is like good wine
It gets better through the years

I've lived for possessions
And found them wanting
Driven by ambition that led to nothing
I've learnt in time though life's not sure
That love love love love is to die for
That love love love love is to die for
That love love love love is to die for
