

I'd Rather Be With You

Peter Cincotti

It's been a while since I saw you
And I don't know what to say
I've flown around the world in circles
Since fame and fortune came my way
Girls are all around me, now it's true
But you should know I'd rather be with you

Smiling people all around me
And never meaning what they say
And all the women that surround me
Pretend they love me all the way
But I don't have to wait until I fall
To realize they don't really care at all

Now all I can do is rely on my feelings
Now I'm thinking of you
And my heart is revealing that I love you

When I come home again I'll find you
And I'll be singing you this song
And then I'll kiss you and remind you
I have loved you all along
Even though I'm loving what I do
Now you know I'd rather be with you, with you, you
