

Tears

Peter Criss

You left me here alone
I guess I'll never see the light
You turned another stone
He makes your wrongs all right
Another well laid plan
Somehow it brings you home
But I know tonight for sure

I see those tears
And the damage they do
You're breaking my heart
With these tears
That I cried all the years
Can we make a new start
Out of all the girls I've had at my knees
You're the only one who can bring me to these
Tears

A master of the beat
You got my love in your hands
A killer of the streets
You got your, your action plan
But somewhere in your heart
There must be a place for me
Cause sweetheart I think I see

I see those tears
And the damage they do
You're breaking my heart
With these tears
That I cried all the years
Can we make a new start
Out of all the girls I've had at my knees
You're the only one who can bring me to these
Tears

Out of all the girls I've had at my knees
You're the only one
You're the only one
Out of all the girls I've had at my knees
You're the only one who can bring me to these
Tears
And the damage they do
You're breaking my heart
With these tears
That I cried all the years
You're breaking my heart
With these tears
You're breaking my heart
With these tears
You're breaking my heart
With these tears

And the damage they do You're breaking my heart
With these tears
That I cried all the years

With these tears
