

My Head Sounds Like That

Peter Gabriel

The metal jangles as the key turns unlock the door, wipe my feet clean oh my head sounds like that

The oil is spitting in the saucepan I squeeze this sponge and let the cat out
oh my head
oh oh oh
oh oh oh

The water's dripping in the hallway the guy next door, he knocks his wall down

The knife it scrapes across the burnt brown toast the freight train rumbles pass my window
oh my head
oh oh oh
oh oh oh
oh oh oh

Around the axis we all spin to determine what's left out and what's left in
who's left out and who's left in who's left in

The moment's come and go like water I try to hold them but they're fading
oh my head
oh oh oh
