I Could Have Given You More

Petula Clark

I've got your note
Early today
Wished you said something before
I would have tried
To make you stay
I could have given you more
I could have given much more

If you had told me
Last night was our last night
I would have held you ever so tight
I would have told you
Words I've been saving
I would have said you're all I'm living for
I could have given you more
I could have given much more

This time I know
I would be smart
I was hurt bad once before
I was afraid
To lose my heart
For I have given you more
I could have given much more

If you had told me
Last night was our last night
I would have held you ever so tight
I would have told you
Words I've been saving
I would have said you're all I'm living for
I could have given you more
I could have given much more
