

Homeseek Dark Blues

Phase

I am alone again,
The home I long has led me wrong,
Dragged me to descend

On the road again
Dying to be freed, I'm diving deep
Craving to be enchained

Stand to what's shown again
My mind is gone, to where it belongs
Dead drunk from abstain

(And) then in time again
But then again there is no gain
The essence screams repent

It feels life kneels
Before the fire, meld with desire

It seems blind seems
Plug your wire, sending you higher

Then I am alone again,
What I've longed for has done me wrong,
Dragged me to this end

On the road again
And then again, there was no gain
I've bitterly repent
