

Somebody Loves You

Phil Keaggy

Hey girl, say there girl, somebody loves you,
Somebody does you know,
Somebody does you know.

Do you ever get the feeling no one understands,
Do you hurt and there's no one close at hand,
Do you ever feel like running
But you have no place to go,
Look in the mirror, does it really show
The person you want to be,
An image you long to see,
But there's a hidden person
In your heart trying to get through,
Somebody loves you, somebody does you know.

Hey boy, say there boy, somebody loves you,
Somebody does you know,
Somebody does you know.

So you say you got in trouble
When you told the truth,
You got in hot water cause you had to prove
You only wanted someone
To accept you for who you are
When you look into a mirror,
You may not see a star
But a person you want to be,
An image you long to see,
And there's a hidden person
In your heart trying to get through,
Somebody loves you, somebody does you know.

You are loved, you are loved.

Hey actor, this is a factor, somebody loves you,
Somebody does you know,
Somebody does you know.

Do you give the faint impression
You're not really you,
Your part is so convincing
You pray somebody knew
The loneliness inside is more than you can bear,
When you look into a mirror
There's really no one there
But a person you want to be,
An image you long to see,
There's a hidden person
In your heart trying to get through.
Somebody loves you, somebody does you know.

You are loved, you are loved.
