He'll Never Let You Go

Phillips, Craig & Dean

You don't have to say it I can see it in your eyes Though your heart is bruised You hide the truth Beneath a fine disguise

I've got something to tell you Though it's simple it's said with love Nothing new, still it's as true As it ever was

He'll never let you go, oh no
That's never been His way
When He said that He would love you
He was talking about for always
He'll never let you go, no matter how low
You feel that you have fallen
His arms are longer still
And He wants you to know
He'll never let you go

You trace through your failures
And good intentions left behind
And you wonder when you'll fly again
You've lost the will to try

But there in your weakness You will find the wings of the wind Should you get scare, He'll be there Where He's always been

He'll never let you go, oh no
That's never been His way
When He said that He would love you
He was talking about for always
He'll never let you go, no matter how low
You feel that you have fallen
His arms are longer still
And He wants you to know
He'll never let you go

And in the desert place where the heart can't sing When your faith is shaken
When you can't face the morning
You're not on your own
You'll never walk alone
He's got you safe beneath His wings, oh

He'll never let you go, oh no
That's never been His way
When He said that He would love you
He was talking about for always
He'll never let you go, no matter how low
You feel that you have fallen
His arms are longer still
And He wants you to know
HE'LID TMEWETP feet you go